Rules for Fasting

Standard for breaking the Ekādaśī fast

If you have observed a complete fast (without even water) you do not need to break it with grains. You can break it with caranāmṛta or fruit. But if you have observed Ekādaśī by eating fruit, vegetables, etc., then it should be broken on the following day by taking grains at the times mentioned herein.

Mahā-dvādaśi is observed like Ekādaśī.

Ekādaśī

The essence is to eat simply, once or twice, so that one can spend as much time as possible hearing, chanting and remembering Śrī Śrī Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa. Never eat meat, fish, eggs, onions, garlic, carrots (red and orange), red lentils (masūra-dal), green flat lentils, mushrooms or products thereof, sea salt, refined oil and sugar.

Restricted foods on Ekādaśī

• Tomatoes, eggplants, cauliflower, broccoli, bell peppers, beets, bitter melon (karela), loki, parmal, toroi, kunli, drumsticks, bindī (ladies' fingers) and banana flowers

• Peas, chickpeas and all types of beans, including products made from beans (e.g., papadams, tofu, tempeh)

• All leafy vegetables (e.g., spinach, salads, cabbages) and leafy herbs like parsley, coriander leaves, celery and curry leaves

• Grains (e.g., syama rice, vrata ke chawal, varai, morai, millet, barley, farina, pasta, rice, corn) and all types of flour made from grains and beans (e.g., rice flour, chickpea flour, urad dahl flour)

• Starches from corn or grains, and products made from or mixed with these starches like baking soda, baking powder, certain soft drinks with corn syrup, custard, certain yoghurts and puddings, certain varieties of cream and cottage cheese, certain sweets and candies, and tapioca balls

• Oils made from grains (e.g., corn oil, mustard oil, sesame oil) and products fried in these oils (e.g., fried nuts, potato chips and other fried snack foods). Refined oils are adulterated so avoid them.

• Honey, and sweets made with starches

Spices used on Ekādaśī: black pepper, fresh ginger, Pink or himalayan salt and fresh turmeric, all taken from a new and clean package

Spices not used on Ekādaśī: hing (asofetida), sesame seeds, cumin, fenugreek, mustard, tamarind, fennel, cardamom and nutmeg

Foods that can be taken all days of the year, including Ekādaśī and Cāturmāsya:

• All fruits (fresh and dried)(avoid coated apples,dragon fruit and durian), all nuts and all oils made from nuts

• Potatoes, pumpkin, cucumber, radish, squash, lemon, avocado, olives, coconut, buckwheat, joni jaggary (pure liquid jaggery)

• All pure milk products (except yoghurt during the 2nd month of Cāturmāsya and milk during the 3rd month of Cāturmāsya)

• For sannyāsīs, brahmacārīs and vānaprasthas: shaving head and cutting nails is to be done on full moon days

Cāturmāsya

• Restricted foods during the entire four months of Cāturmāsya:

• Eggplants, tomatoes, loki, parmal, urad dahl and honey

• Particular foods that are restricted during each of the four months of Cāturmāsya:

• First month: No leafy vegetables, such as spinach, salads of all types, cabbages of all types, kale, leafy herbs like coriander, mint, parsley, curry and powdered leafy herbs and teas

▪ Second month: No yoghurt (if one requires it for health, it can be mixed with water)

▪ Third month: No milk (if required, it can be mixed with a drop of lemon juice)

▪ Fourth month: No mustard oil or sesame seeds

Puruśottama Māsa

Restricted foods during the month of Puruśottama:

• Eggplants, tomatoes, loki, parmal, urad dahl, honey, mustard oil or sesame seeds

• No shaving for brahmacārīs and sannyāsīs

Saṅkalpa Mantras for the Ekādaśī fast

Daśamī Saṅkalpa Mantra

daśamī divase prāpte vratasthohaṁ janārdana tridinaṁ devadeveśa nirvighnaṁ kuru keśava

(Brahmavaivarta Purāṇa)

Since today is daśamī, I am ready for a three day vow. O Lord of lords, O Keśava, please see that no obstacles come to disturb my vow.

Ekādaśī Saṅkalpa Mantra (Vow to fast on ekādaśī)

ekādaśyāṁ nirāhāraḥ sthithvāhani pare hyahaṁ bhokṣyāmi puṇḍarīkākṣa śaranaṁ me bhavācyuta

(Bṛhan Nāradīya Purāṇa, 21st Chapter, Verse 15)

After fasting on ekādaśī, I will honor prasādam on dvādaśī. Please be my refuge, O Acyuta! Saṅkalpa for fasting for two days adyaśvaśeha nirāhāro bhūtvāhaṁ dvādaśī dine vidhāsye pāraṇaṁ deva prīto bhava ma māniśam (Varāha Purāṇa)

I will fast tonight and tomorrow, and break the fast on dvādaśī. O Lord, may You be pleased! (The evening meal on daśamī, two meals on ekādaśī, and the evening meal on dvādaśī – four meals in total – are forbidden over these three days.)

Dvādaśī Saṅkalpa Mantra

ekādaśyupavāsena dvādaśī pāraṇena ca

yadarjitaṁ mayā puṇyam tena prīṇātu keśava

May Lord Keśava be pleased with the pious merit that I have earned by fasting on ekādaśī and breaking the fast on dvādaśī.

Pāraṇa Mantra

tava prasāda svīkārāt kṛtaṁ yat pāraṇaṁ mayā vratenānena santuṣṭaḥ svastiṁ bhaktiṁ prayaccha me

O Lord, I am performing the pāraṇa of this vow and accepting Your prasāda. Be pleased by this vow and bestow devotional service and auspiciousness upon me.

Pāraṇena Anantara Samarpaṇa Mantra
(Dedication of the result to Bhagavān after breaking the fast)

ajñānat-imirāndhasya vṛtenānena keśava prasannaḥ sumukho bhūtvā jñāna dṛṣṭi prado bhava

O Lord, O Keśava, I am blinded by the darkness of ignorance. May my fasting on ekādaśī please You so that You will bless me with the light of knowledge. In this way, one should remember Śrī Hari and perform the pāraṇa at the prescribed time.

In this connection, Skanda Purāṇa states, “By honoring prasādam sanctified with tulasī leaves on the day of dvādaśī after fasting on ekādaśī, billions of sins are destroyed.” (Haribhaktivilāsa–13/227)

“Even if one is faced with a disturbing crisis, it is one’s duty to dedicate the fast to Śrī Hari by chanting the mantra and performing the pāraṇa by drinking water.” (Hari-bhakti-vilāsa–13/255)

The scientific reason behind not taking grains on Ekādaśī

(Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Nārāyaṇa Gosvāmī Mahārāja, Hawaii, 13 May 2000)

During the bright and dark fortnights of every month, from ekādaśī until the fullmoon day, and from ekādaśī until the newmoon day, there is an increased high tide in the oceans, and the waves rise very high. This is because the moon comes somewhat closer to the Earth and pulls the water towards itself by force of gravity. Ninety percent of the human body is fluid in nature. The moon has a strong influence on water during the above mentioned days. If one eats grains, they absorb water and there is an increased chance of developing diseases due to the moon’s gravity attracting the water.

The body of a human being is like a machine. If we take food three times a day, this machine does not get any rest. If one does not take food on ekādaśī, one’s body can rest and one has more time to engage in nāmabhajana (devotional service rendered through the chanting of the holy names). Thus, one’s devotion is nourished and can increase.

The most important reason to follow ekādaśī is that ekādaśī is Kṛṣṇa Himself. Kṛṣṇa has become ekādaśī. He descends to this world on ekādaśī day, looks after all the people who are observing its vows, and gives special mercy to them. So we must observe ekādaśī.
